

ONLY DARWIN KNOWS

What is a cave, it has no ears , nose or eye's
Just a mouth that swallows water and fly's
The more it drinks the bigger it grows
How it became this big nobody knows

It must get hungry it eats sticks and leaves
The more it eats the more it heaves
But cave's must be human, some times they often choke
They eat all sorts of rubbish even cans of coke

I cannot say much about it only Darwin knows
The bigger the mouth the further it goes
But like all humans it has another end
It twists round corners then the final bend

There's not a lot of difference between cave's and mankind
They both have fronts and a rear and end in there behind.
